

Global Green Growth Forum
9-10 October 2012, Copenhagen

United Nations Global Compact

INVITATION

The Global Green Growth Forum and the UN Global Compact are delighted to invite you to this action-oriented workshop convening leaders of Public-Private Partnerships for discussions on how to effectively establish, manage and scale public-private green growth alliances.

18 June 9:00-10:30 at the Corporate Sustainability Forum, Windsor Barra Hotel, Rio de Janeiro

“Accelerating Green Growth through Public-Private Partnerships”

The workshop is expected to showcase the role public-private partnerships (PPP's) can play in reducing information, policy or behavioral barriers to the scaling of green growth investment, innovation and best practice, and produce some guiding principles for successful Public-Private Partnerships. The discussion will build upon a new tool collaboratively developed by 3GF and its partners enabling the analysis and design of the potential scaling of PPPs in addressing major green growth opportunities.

Participants can choose to take part in any of the parallel roundtable discussions, which each will focus on an existing global PPP for green growth – in biorefining, energy, trade, cities, finance, procurement, water or other.

Each table will discuss scope and design of the PPP, transformational potential, engagement of critical stakeholders, next steps, lessons learned, etc. The discussion will aim to stimulate ideas and find new stakeholders interested in engaging in the initiative going forward. The most relevant findings will feed into the closing plenary and the UNGC outcome document. The Global Green Growth Forum in Copenhagen on 9-10 October 2012 will carry forward the discussion and provide a high-level platform for some of the PPPs featured in this workshop as well as other collaborative efforts, for a focused discussion on their respective business case and economic growth potential.
